Description:

The protection you need!

They might not look alike, but they exist in every field: safeguards. For football you have shin pads, your camera lens has a cap, your guitar a case and your power amplifiers or the like have racks. Just like its colleagues, the rack was built, to protect its substance from damaging influences from outside. With the 7 mm strong walls and its several layers of wood, our delegate is particularly suitable for its task. Due to small partition walls that can be arranged individually, the additional drawer is very handy, as large accessory can easily be stored.
