Description:

The case with a difference!

They are mere objects of utility and often disregarded, although nobody in the show industry could do without them: cases. The representative that is introduced here would probably share the same fate, if it could not call attention to itself with a special feature. Because besides the four big drawers, the four reels and the common attributes of a solid case, our copy has a clever and handy function at its disposal: Due to a also delivered table leg, the case's cover can be attached to the side and thus be used as table. Now important utensils can be placed there, any correspondence can be done and even cards could be dealt. Clever idea!
