Description:

Sometimes you don't need more!
You should also cherish the small things in life. Not at all, small automatically signifies bad or not valuable. Often, something small is appropriate and suits much better than something big. True also for the field of light effects and especially for our EUROLITE BR-100. Because on smaller scales of youth centers, party rooms or small discotheques for example, it feels at home and can unfold its full potential. There is no need for big moving heads. Small and cheap effects, they are required here. The perfect terrain for our BR-100 flower. And despite its low price, the performance and the effects are really nothing to be ashamed of. Powerful and colorful flower beams, changing their direction sound-controlled with every bass beat. Now you put a bit smoke to it and you're ready to party.
