Description:

Extravagant, eerily beautiful, noble, or simply different is how the artificial flower bouquet from Europalms presents itself. It was harmoniously arranged in a matte black vase and is flexible in use - not only for Halloween.

Two-tone roses in red with a black fringe form the center of the arrangement. Their textile flower heads are open in different widths and graduated in height. Thus, the composition of colors is particularly well accentuated. The decorative bouquet is framed by different foliage in black. As a contrast to the red-black decorative object, three butterflies in the colors white and beige have been added.

Upon delivery, the flower decoration is already put in the black plastic vase on styrofoam and ready to be placed.
