Description:

Whether as an ominous hostess at the entrance, the eerie guardian of a buffet or the centerpiece of a themed decoration - Marie the witch creates the perfect spooky ambience and casts a spell over every guest with her large, poisonous green eyes.

The purple robe with black cape seems to move in the twilight, while a pointed witch's hat emphasizes the mystical character of the figure. Blown by the wind of ancient magic, the gray hair falls open over her shoulders and the slightly open mouth reveals two yellowed tooth stumps.

The witch figure holds a shallow metal bowl in her hands - but what it is intended for remains a mystery. Perhaps it serves as a tray for sweets to lure unsuspecting children into her presence with a promising offer? Or is it even a bowl for silver coins with which visitors have to buy their way out of its spell? Who knows if she also casts a dark spell over anyone who gets too close to her...

But the true horror only unfolds when Marie starts to move! Her head bobs up and down ominously forwards, while her eyes flash red LEDs and she utters scary spells.

The animation of the standing figure is activated by an integrated microphone or with a wired control.
